

Real Women Have Hair

a game of strategy and understanding

by Noorin Dorosti

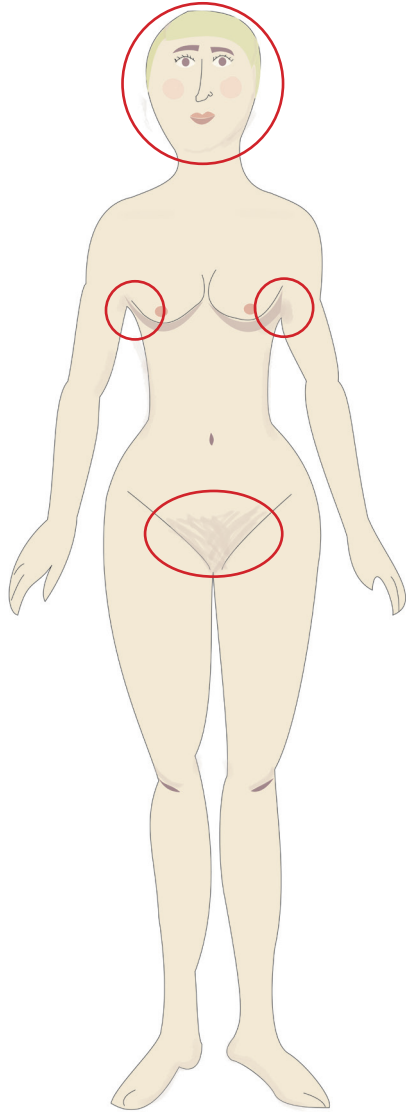

The Point System Cont.

If black, red, or white hairs are remaining in any of the danger zones, the number of black hairs is doubled in counting there fore doubling the amount of points that are being subtracted.

Danger Zones

The Goal of the Game

The goal of the game is to remove the most body hair without being too expensive or too painful.

Game Pieces

The 10 pain coins are given to the player who is doing the hair removal.

The 10 money coins are also given to the player who is doing the hair removal.

The tweezers, thread, RED hairs and WHITE hairs are also given to the player who is doing the hair removal.

The BLACK hairs are given to the player who is placing the hair on the body board.

The Point System

If there are black hairs left on the board at the end of 10 rounds, the hair remover gets -1 point for every black hair remaining.

If there are red hairs left on the board at the end of 10 rounds, the hair remover gets -2 points for every red hair remaining.

If there are white hairs left on the board at the end of 10 rounds, the hair remover gets -3 points for every white hair remaining.

If there are pain coins left at the end of 10 rounds, the hair remover gets +10 for every pain coin remaining.

If there are money coins left at the end of 10 rounds, the hair remover gets +10 for every money coin remaining.

HOWEVER, if there are hairs remaining in danger zones, more points are taken away (see following page).

Turn Structure Cont.

Methods of removal:

Threading has some pain but is a cheap way to remove hair. If the hair remover chooses to thread, they must give up one pain coin and one money coin. However, they must use the thread (putting the thread in both hands) to remove the hairs. After 1 more whole round, the hair placer can add 10 hairs to the body board (Because threaded hairs eventually grow back).

Bleaching is a cheap and painless way to remove hair. If the hair remover chooses to bleach hairs, he or she must one by one remove the black hairs and replace them with white hairs.

Waxing is a painful and semi-expensive way to remove hair, however, it lasts a long time! If a hair remover chooses to wax, he or she can use both hands to remove as many hairs as he or she can. However, this also causes redness. The black hairs must be replaced with red hairs. Also, if the hair remover choses to wax, he or she must give up 6 pain coins and 6 money coins. However, it isn't until 3 whole rounds later that the hair placer can add 10 hairs to the body board (because waxed hairs eventually grow back).

Quick Start

The body board is placed in the middle fo the table. The black hairs are given to the first player who will be placing the hairs anywhere he or she desires on the board. The WHITE hairs and RED hairs, tweezers and thread, and the pain coins and money coins are given to the player who is dong the hair removal on the body board.

Turn Structure

This is a two player game. The players are divided into the hair remover (the player who will be removing the hair) and the hair placer (the player who will be placing the hair on the body board).

The hair placer begins the game. This player has five minutes (use a phone or a timer to countdown) to place only the BLACK hairs on the body board, wherever they want (note, some places are better to fill up because it will be harder for the hair remover to get rid of these hairs). The goal for the hair placer, is to make the hair remover's life hard and make it so they are unable to remove all of the hairs on the body board.

After five minutes has passed and the hair placer has finished with his or her turn, it is now the hair remover's turn to play the game. The hair remover's goal is to remove as much hair on the board without causing too much pain or spending too much money. The player has seven options in removing the hair (see following page). There are 5 rounds in this player's turn. Each round consists of 1 minute intervals. In each 1 minute interval, the player chooses one of the 7 seven methods of hair removal. He or she uses this method for 1 minute to remove as much hair from the body board as he or she can. Once 1 minute is over, the player must pick another option of hair removal, no methods can be used more than once. After 5 rounds of 1 minute intervals are over, the points are counted (see following page). Once the points are counted, the hair remover and the hair placer switch roles and the same process is started over until the points are counted again. The player with the highest amount of points wins the game.

Turn Structure Cont.

Methods of removal:

Lasering is permanent and is therefore really useful in the game! However, it is very painful and expensive. If the player chooses to laser, he or she must use 8 money coins and 8 pain coins. Although, this is expensive and painful, the hair will not grow back in the end. The lasering can only be done with one hand and by pulling out one hair at a time.

Shaving is a fast, painless, and cheap way to remove hair! However, the hair will grow back thicker and faster. So, if a hair remover chooses to use shaving, in the following round after the shaving round, the hair placer can add hair to the body board while the hair remover is using a new method to remove hair. With this method, the hair remover can use both hands while removing hair, and can grab more than one hair at a time.

Tweezing is a slow but has little pain and is a cheap way to remove hair! If the hair remover chooses to use the tweezers to remove hair, he or she must pluck the hairs one by one. However, this only costs one pain coin and one money coin. If tweezing is used, one more whole round later, the hair placer can add 10 hairs to the body board (because tweezed hairs eventually grow back).

Nair is a painless and cheap way to remove hair. However, nair is a chemical and can cause redness! If you choose to nair, you must one-by-one remove the black hairs and replace them with red hairs. Also, 2 more whole rounds, the hair placer can add 10 hairs to the body board (because naired hairs eventually grow back).